

Chapter 1

What do you mean magic?

There is a boy named Jack. He lives in the city of Magesterdone. One day he started acting very strange. Some would even describe his behaviors as weird! When Jack went on a run, he ran so fast that he made the trees sway. When he lifted weights, 200 pounds felt like feathers. When he held the weights in his hands he could squish the solid metal bars.

His father Dan, told him to sit down, "I need to have a talk with you, Jack. Your actions are something that run in the family". Jack was confused. "So let me get to the point. Your actions are a result of your magic, your magic is starting to come out and it will overpower and control you until you learn how to control it".

"Wa, wa, what do you mean I have magic?", Jack said in shock.

"It's been in the family your since your great-grandparents", replied his father. "Once those actions start, it makes you out of control. You must attend Magic school. The Magic school is in the middle of the woods the name of the school is Magic Mountain Institute but I don't want you to go." said his father.

"Why, but it seems fun!" Jack said eagerly

"No, no it's not, trust me" said his dad. "In fact son, that's how your mother died. She had to go to war where they needed the strongest most powerful magic. She was very strong but she got hit by a rocket" said his father. His father paused, holding back a tear.

"After that happened I blocked and stopped all of my magic. That's why I don't want you to go. It is very dangerous there". His father paused, "If they find you, promise me that when they put you through a test to see if you can make it into the school, you must to try to fail ...do random stuff that has nothing to do with the test and get everything wrong. You must not get into the school!" His father got very quiet. Jack was more curious than ever.

Chapter 2

Got a letter in the mail

"Hey dad I got a letter in the mail." Jack said excitedly.

Cool Who is it from?" His father said inquisitively.

"It is from the Magic school I think."

"let me see that letter!" Stammered his father.

"They want you to go in one week." His father shrieked

"Go? go where?" Asked Jack

"The magic school!" said his father."

"But if you don't want me to go then I won't go." Jack said

"No Jack....that's not how it worksit's mandatory, you have to go!" His father sat down, nervous, the letter in his hands fell to the floor...

"You have to be at the Townhall Friday morning at 2 AM, you have been summoned Jack, you have no choice." His fathers face turned pale..

"Why so early dad? said jack

"Because they don't want anyone to know where the school is and they don't want anyone to see who they have recruited. It's a secret Jack. No one can know where you are." His father out his hands over his face. He looked as if he was going to cry.

Chapter 3.

School time

FRIDAY MORNING!

"Jack you already to go? do you have all your stuff? Were Leaving in five minutes" said his father.

"Ok I'm ready to go" said jack. They got inside his lime green Volkswagen bus. As they drove away, they did not speak.

"Finally," his father said, "we are almost there".

"I just didn't know I knew so many people that had magic."

"There are so many people here that I know here dad!"

"If that's good that means you will know people in the school if you make make it in."

"But I am not going to make it in for you dad!"

"That makes me happy" said his father with joy." His father was looking at the people at the town hall. He saw the man who shot the rocket at his wife. His son was at the magic school. Dan looked at jack

"Ok I have a change in plans" he said. "The man that killed your mother, his son is in the magic school ...his son is right there I'm pretty sure name is Paul" said his father."What!!!" Screamed Jack

"I want you to do good on the test, rock the test, and ace the test. in other words make it into the school" said his dad. "Do you understand what I mean?" "If you make it in the school which I hope you do now I want you to kick his sons butt.""But dad..."

"Just do as I say Jack" demanded his father

"OK I'll do that for you dad ...just for mom."

"That's my boy" said his dad.

The man started to look at Dan "grab your stuff out of the car. good luck, hope you can do what I want you to do. Love you jack",

"Love you too dad".

his dad drove off in a hurry.

Chapter 4

Test day

"Ok Jack said lets see where I am going".

"Hey Jack your dad was gone in a hurry was he scared!"

"I bet your dad was" said Jack.

Jack walked away.

They were calling all the names to make sure everyone was there. And indeed the kid was Paul. They gathered everyone on the bus then drove them to the train station, took a train to an airport got on a plane, landed and rode another bus before they were at the school. By the time we got there it was 8 pm the next day!

They showed them where their rooms were and they went right to sleep. Everyone was exhausted.

Rise and shine at 6 o'clock in the morning they got woken up. They brought them down to the cafeteria for breakfast.

"They have some pretty good looking food here" Jack said.

There was a big stage in the cafeteria. A very tall, skinny man with long lime green hair walked up and started speaking.

"Hello, I am instructor Matt. I will be your magic school instructor. After breakfast you will go change into your uniforms. They were delivered to your room and you will report to the testing room."

Jack finished his breakfast, he was famished.

Along with everybody else, they went back to their room to change and reported to the testing room.

"Ok, this test is going to be a while to test all 50 of you."

They had to do all sorts of things like move objects with their mind, lift heavy things without the use of their hands, and be able to teleport to different places. Jack was able to do all three skills. Paul, on the other hand was only able to do 2 of the 3. Jack got in Paul's face about it. Instructor Matt told everybody that if you did not want to be in school you would have to get a part of your brain surgically removed and you would feel like something in your life was missing. The next three days they worked on different skills then Jack did something extraordinary!

CHAPTER 5.

Thanks Jack!

Jack found Paul's room and he knocked on the door. He walked in and punched Paul in the face and then beat him up. Instructor Matt walked by and he stopped and walked in the room. "What is going on in here" he said.

Jack looked up at him "nothing really"

"You guys are both in very big trouble". He brought them to the surgery lab and told them that their Magic was getting removed and they are both getting expelled from the school. They got out from the surgery. Instructor Matt notified both of their parents and told them they would be home in a couple of days. Jack and Paul's parents were both very confused. They both took separate buses to an airport, got on two different planes and then got on two separate trains then got on two different buses and drove to the town hall to meet their parents. Paul's dad took Paul home and Jack's dad took Jack home.

Jack's dad had a talk with him. "Why were you called home early" his father said. "Well I completed my task for you and Mom, but I got my magic taken away for some reason I don't feel like I'm missing anything" Jack said "wow I'm really proud of you" said Jack's dad!
