

9/15
Tia Paine

Magesturium 1

Call woke up in his bed holding Miri, while Havoc licked his face. Call heard a knock on the door was it Tamara walked in quietly and sat at the foot of his bed. "Today we are free" she said in a excited tone. "Why?" Call answered "because they are with Aarav preparing for battle!" "oh". "We should go to the Gallery," Tamara asked. Then she left. Call put Miri on the side table and got out of bed. He put on his usual clothes and went to the common room. When he opened the door to the common room Jasper appeared. He was on the ground sitting and breathing heavily. He said "There's a Devoured in the gallery!" "Okay then lets go Call!" They ran out of the common room to go defeat the Devoured. When Call and Tamara got there there was a very large creature. It was Hungous, it has spikes across its back and giant claws. One rip of those could kill a man. Call fumbled a few times because of the running on his bad leg. The creature turned around it had a man face like the one called "Marcus". The only thing different about this one was the eyes. The eyes has different shades of red, black, orange, yellow, and gray. It looked like a million Blazing Fires. The colors pinwheeled in the eyes as if he had no soul. He probably didn't. The devoured leaped in front of Tamara and whispered something her eyes widened. She was shocked. Call decided to actually fight the beast. He shot blue beams out of his palms, shooting the devoured in the side. The place where I hit him was a hole with dark clouds spilling out. Suddenly a dark cloud from it looked like chaos magic, form on Call on Tamara leg. But the cloud on hers was increasingly, oozing up her leg. By 2 minutes she was covered in complete darkness up to her neck. Then appeared a dark, shadowy figure behind the devoured who said "You are Consitine Madden, The Enemy of Death," he pointed to Call. Call was concerned, Tamara was eyes wide, jaw stretched. How did she know I was The Enemy of Death, How? Then when call looked at the devoured, a dark cloud Devoured him! Aaron came out he was a chaos mage and was creating not chaos but confusion instead. Aaron was out and Bruised and his left leg was gushing out blood. His eyes were black, the devoured was gone, and so was Tamara it was just Aaron and Call.